

The Northern Book Fair
Kagawong Park Centre
July 10-12, 2009

Book vendors from throughout Northern Ontario will be gathering on Manitoulin Island July 10-12 for a three day showcase of Northern literary talent. Authors and publishers are invited to rent a table at the Kagawong Park Centre and to make their publications available to the public. Foot traffic is expected to be high since it is the height of the Manitoulin tourist season and Kagawong attracts many visitors to the nearby Bridal Veil Falls.

The Book Fair will allow Northern writers and book vendors to network and to learn about publishing ventures and opportunities in different parts of the province. The event will attract island residents as well as cottagers, ferry passengers, day-trippers from the North Shore and Sudbury and other points North.

The unique Northern Ontario book marketplace is just one component of this event marking the 10th anniversary of the Manitoulin Writers' Retreat. Writing workshops and literary readings will also be running in conjunction with the Book Fair.

The Book Fair runs 7-9 p.m. Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday. Additional information available from Margo Little, 705-282-1714
